

National Rail

Network Rail must shut down a station for the weekend, and no trains may pass through that station while it is shut. This might cause parts of the network to be cut off from the rest.

Which of the stations below would cut off the most stations if it shut down?

Can you motivate your answer?

Scotland

